

Book Discussion Questions

Which character did you identify with the most? Why? Were they similar to you – or different? Did they remind you of anyone you know? In what ways? Anyone you really didn't like?

How important were the settings of the story? How did the locations affect the characters, or what happens to them?

Share a line or a scene that stood out for you. Why do you think it affected you? What did you like (or not like) about it?

Did you notice any particular themes or images throughout the book? What do you think was important about them or why were they there?

What do you think will happen to the characters after the book's ending? If you were writing a sequel, what would you have happen?

Would you go to see this book if it were made into a movie? Who would you cast as the characters?

Is there anything you'd like to ask the author?
